How to read this: page 2 shows every change at a glance. Pages 3 to 10 explain each one. Page 11 is where you sign.

What changed, old site to new.

Every row is explained in full on the page shown. Nothing here is new information, it's the same brief laid out for a quick read.

AREA	OLD SITE	NEW SITE	PAGE
Who it sells	Sold Trex. Read like any decking installer's website.	Sells you: Norfolk's TrexPRO Platinum installer, your story, only your work.	3
Search	Generic "composite decking", brought in price-comparison enquiries.	Leads with "Trex composite decking" plus Platinum / Advisory Council credentials.	4
Voice	"Get a Free Quote" in 122 places. "We'd love to hear from you!"	First person, as you. "Let's Chat" or "Message me on WhatsApp".	6
Warranties	Signature and Transcend shown as 25 year products.	Both correctly shown as 50 years. Enhance Naturals 25 years.	8
Colours	Listed Spiced Rum, Tiki Torch, Beach Dune, Slate Haven, "Calm Shell".	Only the 11 real UK colours you sell, checked against Arbordeck.	8
Pages	Over twenty pages, including ten town-specific location pages.	Seven pages, each with one job.	9
Reviews	Fabricated testimonials with invented names and towns, in nine places.	Eight real reviews from your Google Business profile.	10
Samples	"Free Sample" buttons went to Trex's £2.50 paid checkout.	Routes to your contact form, so you arrange samples personally.	10
Hero video	Played on Mac, not on Windows.	Re-encoded, now plays everywhere.	10

The old site sold Trex. The new one sells you.

● THE OLD SITE

The previous site read like any decking installer's website: generic service pages, a "Get a Free Quote" button on every corner, and a few product pages that leaned on Trex's own marketing rather than your name. It also carried real errors: wrong warranty terms, colours you don't sell, and reviews that were never actually written by your customers.

● THE NEW SITE

The rebuild starts from a different premise. You're not competing on price with every fencing firm in Norfolk who also fits a bit of decking. You're Norfolk's TrexPRO Platinum installer and one of the small number of contractors Trex itself asks for advice. The site now says that plainly, tells your story, and only shows work you've actually done, for the kind of client who wants a deck built once and built properly: heritage homes, holiday lets, waterside gardens on the Broads and the coast.

Rank for "Trex," not "composite decking." Confirm this is the fix.

You've flagged this directly: the old site's enquiries skewed toward people comparing decking materials on price, not people picturing a finished garden. Worth being explicit about the approach here, since it's a judgement call, not just a fact to check.

SEARCH TERM	SEARCHES/MONTH, UK	WHAT IT MEANS HERE
composite decking installer near me	170	Won via Google Business Profile & schema, not page wording composite decking norwich	70	Real, but generic, brings in the price-comparison searcher
trex decking installer	20	Smaller, but already brand-qualified, worth more per enquiry composite decking norfolk / suffolk	10 each	Minor, county-level support only
Cromer, Wroxham, Southwold, "Norfolk Broads" as searches	No measurable data	Confirms no benefit to town-specific pages

We tried to pull fresh volume specifically for "Trex decking" and "Trex composite decking" as branded terms to confirm the theory with numbers, but the data connector was out of quota on this run. Treat the reasoning as sound but not yet number-checked, we'll confirm properly once it's back.

THE TENSION

People genuinely do search "composite decking Norwich," it's real, checkable demand, not something we can pretend isn't there. Refusing to show up for it would mean giving up real visibility. But it's also the exact commodity search that produced low-quality enquiries before.

THE APPROACH, PER YOUR STEER

Rank for "Trex composite decking," not generic "composite decking." Someone who searches the brand name has already done enough homework to know Trex is the premium option. Pair that with the credential that actually backs it up: TrexPRO Platinum since 2017 (top 5% of UK Trex contractors) and Trex's own 2024 Pro Advisory Council, a seat Trex invites people onto. That reads as "one of the best in the UK" without a claim we'd have to defend if challenged. The homepage title, meta description and hero already lead this way.

WHAT WE'D LIKE YOU TO CONFIRM

Lead with "Trex composite decking" plus the Platinum/Advisory Council credentials, generic "composite decking" only where it has to appear for search reasons, and never an unverifiable superlative like "best in the UK."

"I've been doing this since I was three."

The About page is written in your voice, first person, built around the real timeline of the business. Nothing here is invented, it's the story as you told it, put in order.

Check for: wrong dates, anything missing, anything you'd rather not say publicly.

1987

The Wood Yard

Your parents open their first premises. You're three years old, running round the yard with your own little hammer.

Joining Properly

You join the family business the day you finish school. If Norfolk needed a shed or a fence, it already knew to come to you.

2016

Beams & Braces

You set out on your own to specialise: bespoke joinery, timber frames, and composite decking. The Trex partnership begins here.

2017

TrexPro Platinum

Trex's highest certification, held by fewer than 5% of their UK contractors.

Trex Pro Advisory Council

Invited onto Trex's own advisory council after 500+ decks built since 2016, including some of the largest curved decks installed anywhere in the UK.

Today

What You Actually Believe

"I don't think people buy Trex. I think people buy the outdoor space they've been picturing, and Trex happens to be the best material I've found to build it properly."

Not everyone needs a premium deck.

The whole site is written as you, talking directly to one homeowner, not a company addressing a market. Internally, we're building this as the Ferrari of deck builds: the site never uses that phrase, but every sentence gets tested against it.

ATTITUDE

Selective, not pleading

PROOF

Specifics, not adjectives

● OLD SITE SAID

- "Get a Free Quote" the exact phrase you've said you dislike
- "We'd love to hear from you!" desperate, generic, could be any tradesman
- "Passionate about excellence since childhood" hype standing in for a real fact
- Spec sheet language dumped on a homepage (that belongs on the product pages only)
- Any testimonial, stat, or colour that hasn't been checked against a real source

● NEW SITE SAYS

- "I'm Darren Gooch" instead of "Beams & Braces is"
- "Not everyone needs a premium deck." Filters the reader, doesn't beg for them.
- "50 year warranty. 500+ decks." Let the number do the selling.
- "I don't build cheap decks. I build the ones that are still exactly right in twenty years."
- "Let's Chat" or "Message me on WhatsApp"

Every credential on the site is independently verified.

Checked against Trex's own official installer directory, Companies House, and Arbordeck (the UK Trex distributor), not assumed from the old site or from memory.

● CONFIRMED AND ON THE SITE

Beams & Braces, a trading name of D Gooch Limited (Company No. 04835734), confirmed directly against Companies House. This now sits in the site footer.

07983 531860 is your mobile, listed correctly on the site, on Trex's own installer directory, and by you directly.

191a Plumstead Road East, Norwich, NR7 9LW is correct and stays as the address across the site.

● WRONG ELSEWHERE, NOT ON YOUR SITE

Phone. Arbordeck's listing shows 531830, a typo on their end. Worth getting corrected with them directly since it's a live discrepancy across your online listings.

Address. Trex's own installer directory and Arbordeck both independently list NR12 7ND instead, worth flagging to them directly since it's outdated on their end, not yours.

Three Trex ranges. Real UK colours, real warranties.

Every colour and warranty term was checked directly against arbordeck.co.uk (the real UK Trex distributor). The old site had several genuine errors here, corrected in this rebuild.

● REMOVED FROM THE OLD SITE

"Spiced Rum," "Tiki Torch," "Beach Dune," "Slate Haven," and the misspelled "Calm Shell" (corrected to Clam Shell, which belongs to Enhance Basics, a range you don't currently list on site). None of these are colours you sell, so none appear anywhere on the new site.

THE SMART UPGRADE

Enhance Naturals

Entry point into real Trex composite. Natural wood look, none of the maintenance.

Colours 4

Warranty 25 years

THE ONE YOU SELL MOST

Trex Transcend

Richest colours and deepest woodgrain in the range. Your default recommendation.

Colours 5

Warranty 50 years

THE ARCHITECTURAL CHOICE

Trex Signature

Sleek, minimal, modern profile. For contemporary builds and clients who notice detail.

Colours 2

Warranty 50 years

RANGE	REAL UK COLOURS	OLD SITE SAID	CORRECT WARRANTY
Trex Signature	Ocracoke, Whidbey	25 years	50 years
Trex Transcend	Jasper, Biscayne, Rainier, Carmel, Island Mist	25 years	50 years
Trex Enhance Naturals	Rocky Harbor, Foggy Wharf, Toasted Sand, Calm Water	25 years	25 years

Seven pages, each with one job.

● OLD SITE: OVER TWENTY PAGES

Most doing very little for you. Removed: ten town-specific location pages (Cromer, Holt, Wroxham, etc.), a dedicated "Areas We Cover" page, the blog, and standalone Fencing, Pergolas, Gallery, Testimonials, and FAQs pages.

This matches how D Gooch's own site is structured: no location pages, geography mentioned naturally in the copy instead. Nothing of substance was lost, the useful parts (real photos, real reviews) were folded into Our Work and Home.

● NEW SITE: SEVEN PAGES

Home. Your credentials up front, the story in brief, the three Trex ranges, real reviews, one route to Contact.

/trex

Trex Decking (hub). The three ranges compared side by side, framed around who each one suits rather than spec sheets.

/trex-signature

/trex-transcend

/trex-enhance-naturals

Individual range pages. Full colour swatches, verified warranty terms, and real project photos in that colour.

/work

Our Work. Real project photography only, organised by curved decking, Trex decking, garden rooms and gyms, and garden bars.

/about

About. Your story, told as a timeline, 1987 to today.

/contact

Contact. WhatsApp first, then a short form. No "free quote" language anywhere.

This wasn't a redesign for its own sake.

These were real, factual problems on the live site, not stylistic preferences. Reviews were also replaced: the old site had fabricated testimonials; the new one uses eight real reviews from your Google Business profile (10 in total, 2 without usable text).

PROBLEM	BEFORE	NOW
Warranty years	Signature and Transcend were shown as 25 year products.	Both actually carry a 50 year warranty. Corrected.
Non-UK colours	Tiki Torch and Spiced Rum aren't sold by you and aren't part of the UK range you offer.	Removed everywhere.
Board profile	Site claimed the boards were "dual-sided." You confirmed they're not.	Corrected to "grooved edge, single-face embossed grain."
Fabricated reviews	Invented names, invented towns, and in one case a colour that doesn't exist ("Beach Dune"), appearing in nine places across the site, including Google's own structured review data.	Replaced with eight genuine Google reviews.
Hero video	Encoded in a format that plays on Mac but not on Windows, which is exactly why it worked when we checked it but not when you did.	Re-encoded, now plays everywhere.
Sample charge	"Free Sample" buttons routed to Trex's own paid checkout (£2.50).	Now routes to your contact form instead, so you arrange samples personally.
"Get a Free Quote"	Appeared in 122 places, per your own objection to the phrase.	Replaced in all 122.

09 SIGN-OFF

Ready for your go-ahead.

Once you're happy with the story, the tone, the lifestyle-vs-decking approach in Section 02, and the facts above, reply to confirm and we'll move to final review of the live pages before pointing the domain at the new site. If anything reads wrong, or a fact needs correcting, flag it here and we'll fix it before anything goes live.
